DFNC Junior Presentation Night

The DFNC held its Junior Presentation evening last Friday with a record number of families in attendance, which was great to see. Despite not having a successful year in terms of wins on either the oval or the court, it has been pleasing to see an increasing number of young people around Dunolly and surrounding areas involving themselves in sport to maintain an active lifestyle and be connected to a club.

All coaches thanked the players for their commitment and effort, and also the parents for supporting them in their roles. President Stephen Riley also stated the junior players are the future and heart of the club, and the DFNC will continue to strive to provide a great family club atmosphere for the children to be involved in.

It was also very pleasing to note how confident and articulate the young members of the club were when accepting their awards, not shying away from thanking those they wanted to including team mates, parents and coaches.

The club would like to acknowledge all the umpires without whom the game couldn't go on, especially those who gave up early mornings to be there.

Rosie's Ramble

Was watching the ABCs show "City in the Sky" the other night. The numbers of planes in the sky at any one time is scary. The A380 Air Bus is so big that the parts are built in four European countries, then transported to France by truck where they are assembled. They carry over 800 passengers – that is the population of Dunolly plus Bealiba, and probably a few others.

I recently bought a new straw broom. When I used it for the first time, the head came loose as they always do, as the handle is screwed in. Fixed that – undid the head, smeared super glue around the end of the handle, put it back together and let it dry.

Problem solved!

Don't know if this is an omen for the AFL next year, but the maggies were fighting with the crows over the dog's bones in the yard today.

It is time to give Rex the wonder dog his worm tablets. I got the ones that the dogs are supposed to eat like lollies. NO WAY. I broke them up and hid them in his food – which he gobbled up as usual. However, he always leaves a bit in the dish and the birds clean it up. I don't really know if I wormed the dog or the maggies.

The expression "on the cusp" is the latest way to describe anything that is going to happen in the future. At least it gives penultimate a rest.

Can you imagine anything scarier than being on the opposite side of a tennis net to Serena Williams?

Lost – Teddy Bear, blue, Friday night, Alinga St, Child attached.

For Sale – One father for sale, going cheap, any offer accepted or will exchange for a pair of white mice. Phone.....

Dog Days – Contentment is a barrel-bellied bulldog happily roasting by the fire.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

I wish to advise the ratepayers and residents of Flynn Ward in Central Goldfields Shire, that I will be re-nominating for the position of Councillor in the forthcoming election.

I have, I believe, served the Shire, and especially Flynn Ward to the best of my ability by being a strong advocate for all residents.

There are a number of issues still to be finalised, such as the continuation of footpaths in Dunolly and the streetscape in Bealiba, lighting in the public toilets in Bealiba and right-hand turn lane at Simson on the Maryborough/Dunolly Road. Also one of the most important, the future of library services in Flynn Ward.

These and other projects require strong representation. Hoping for your support,

Bob Henderson

Dunolly Community Garden

The grafting and pruning workshop with Carolyn Gemmel from Mudlark Permaculture was a great day. Carolyn has been saving rare and heritage fruit trees for many years and has an enormous collection of fruit tree varieties. Everyone had the opportunity to produce a grafted fruit tree to take home. In the next few years we will get to taste some amazing fruit. Carolyn also taught us about the importance of mulching with woody materials. These encourage healthy microflora that help feed the plant's roots. Central Goldfields Council kindly donated a load of tan bark for the lane-way, so that should help the trees along.

We meet every Wednesday at 2pm (changing to 5.00pm during daylight saving). Come along for a cuppa.

Beyond the Garden Path with Maz.....

I think it's more than time the Shire put in a cat curfew. Look at all the extra funds they'd raise!! But I have a suspicion that, miraculously, these moggies wouldn't belong to anyone at all in that case.

Anyway, getting back to the birds that do come around. We have lots of quite tame magpies that mostly manage to look after themselves. I've had three olive-backed orioles in the trees at the back. They have choruses of many notes. Also quite a few different honey-eaters and parrots. It's great to hear them all singing and chattering at once.

The little pardalotes are also around, but hard to catch sight of as they are so tiny. I wonder where they nest, as they build little hollows like burrows out in the countryside.

Anyone interested in wildflowers should be out and about in the bush over the next few months as it's going to be a show out of the ordinary. Apparently it's the same around most of Australia. Wouldn't it be nice to be able to take a day-trip into the outback to see carpets of colour?

I've also noticed that for the second year in a row we seem to have more bees than usual. That's got to be a good sign as well!

Anyway, take time to wander around and enjoy the overall spread of our wonderful wild, bush gardens, as well as our own patches.

See ya... Maz

Spring has sprung! And so have the millions of weeds; even some that I've not had before. The seeds could have been lying dormant in the ground for years just waiting for such an opportunity as we've had this year.

We virtually went from summer into a cold, cold winter with perfect lots of soaking rain, while the ground held a lot more heat than usual. And then, of course, there was quite a bit of strong wind to carry goodness knows what, to drop into our yards. As a consequence, fertility in spades! But let's not get too bogged down in dreariness, because look at what we've got now and will have more of soon. Vibrancy and colour!

Our whole countryside has had a good drink, which was more than overdue. A few of the farm dams are now full from virtually uninterrupted flows, but a lot of the bush dams are still way down, even with good catchments, as there are a lot of thirsty trees out there to drink it all up. However, fingers crossed.

My yard has been full of birds. Blue wrens have been gone for nearly two weeks, so I take it that they have been nesting somewhere. Thank goodness it is not in my yard though, as two lots of babies got taken by cats three seasons ago. I was absolutely gutted! I would be more than happy if the owners of these cats were to keep them home where they belong. They not only kill the birds, lizards, frogs etc, but also use my vegie garden as a toilet while on their overnight ramblings.

Sam and Jenny Bailey a hit in Central Victoria

Farmer, pilot, husband, and bestselling author Sam Bailey had a lasting impact on residents young and old when he and wife Jenny visited Central Victoria on a speaking tour last week.

During a busy week, Sam and Jenny visited three towns and eight schools speaking to 150 farmers and community members, and 400 primary and secondary students in St Arnaud, Navarre, Dunolly and Maryborough.

Tour organiser Belinda Pritchard from Agriculture Victoria said Sam's story had inspired all his audiences.

"Sam talked about his life, from a childhood growing up in the Australian bush, to a car accident in the outback that turned his life upside down, and its aftermath," Ms Pritchard said.

"He showed the great Australian spirit of having a go and told how he beat the odds to fulfill his lifelong dream to be a farmer, learning to ride a four-wheel motorbike, devising a hoist to get into farm machinery and ultimately learning to fly an ultralight.

He also revealed his big goal – "Sam becoming the first quadriplegic in the world to fly a helicopter."

Ms Pritchard said Sam captivated the audiences he spoke to and captured the attention of students from Prep to Year 12, sharing four lessons he has learned: always wear a seatbelt and don't speed; try everything, even if you think you can't do it because most of the time you'll discover you actually can do it after all; people who say you can't do something are actually helping you. It's up to you to prove them wrong! Value your family, friends and community because they are the ones who support you when things go wrong.

Sam and Jenny donated a copy of their book to each school they visited.

Comments from those attending included: "Sam puts things into perspective", his story was "captivating (and) presented with deep humanity", and that he delivered a "very positive message of resilience and strength".

Key supporters of these events were Northern Grampians and Central Goldfields Shire Councils, the Look Over the Farm Gate program, Agriculture Victoria and the Country Fire Authority.

Dunolly's flood plans finalised

Designs for a large-scale flood mitigation project in Dunolly have been completed, Central Goldfields Shire councillors have heard.

In a report tabled at last month's ordinary council meeting, general manager, technical services, David Sutcliffe, informed councillors of the plans to upgrade Dunolly's existing north east contour drain and associated retarding basin.

The plans are a result of the 2013/14 Dunolly Flood Study that identified key flooding issues in the town, determined flood levels for a range of flood events and recommended mitigation works to reduce the risk of future flooding, including the installation of a water gauge board.

The study report has identified a flood mitigation package, focused on upgrading and redefining the contour drain that runs through the forest area to the north east of the township to contain flows from the upstream eastern forest area," Mr Sutcliffe said.

"An upgrade of the existing retarding basin will slow those flows before discharge into Burnt Creek." he said.

The upgrade of the north east contour drain will require the existing drain to be reshaped and formed while the height of the bank of the basin located in Alice Street will also need to be increased to allow a storage capacity of 43 megalitres, the report detailed.

Councillors were also told that the inlet and outlet structures that control the inflow and outflows to the existing drain, which crosses the Dunolly-Eddington Road near the Betley Road intersection and discharges into Burnt Creek, will also need to be reconstructed.

Councillor John Van Beveren moved a motion that council note the progress report of the Dunolly Flood Mitigation Project and said it was nice to see council and residents move past the 2011 floods that hit the Central Goldfields.

"The striking outcome of this report is the changes of responsibility over periods of time which have resulted in a level of disregard concerning the construction and maintenance of waterways and catchments," he said.

"I'm glad to see things are moving on and hopefully after this, we will see works being done."

Estimated cost of the flood mitigation works is $220,000, with the timing of construction dependent on the availability of funding.

The upgrade to the contour drain and retarding basin had the best benefit cost compared to other options, Mr Sutcliffe said,

"At this point there is no budget to begin this project, that's the next task to investigate going forward,"

Mr Sutcliffe said.

Councillor Bob Henderson seconded the progress report saying the works were unlikely to begin in the next 12 to 24 months.

"It's interesting to note the fact that this drain would have been built in the horse and buggy days. It's a brilliant piece of work but over the years it has become overgrown." Cr Henderson said.

Councillors unanimously agreed to note the progress report with council now to investigate funding options.

SCRIPTURE VERSE FOR THE WEEK

Just so, I tell you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents.

Luke 15:10

It was Betty Lovel's night! Her team had two wins last night, which is the most wins she has received for eight weeks. Betty you're back! Shirley Coburn and Yvonne Best also shared the two game wins with Betty, with Shirley now almost a certainty for the title of Champion for 2016. Two men also played very well. The team pair of skipper Bill Best and Keith Brightwell also enjoyed two wins. The competition was very even and every team won at least one game.

Flying Was His Passion

Less than a month after our flight to the west in January 1978, we took our very special friends from Seattle on a weekend trip to South Australia. Jay was a Senior Lecturer in Chemistry at Monash University and Maurice and Jay amongst others, were the backbone of the Monash University Flying Club. Maurie and Jay, used to fly to King Island in our plane to buy the crays for the annual cray-bake, attended by over 80 members. Their family settled in Melbourne and today their eldest son Rick and his wife Janine own the Amcal Chemist in Swan Hill; second son Steve is a doctor at the Alfred Hospital in Melbourne and both boys and their delightful wives have gorgeous families; daughter Jocelyn is a Vet and she and Gse live in Seattle and visit the families as often as possible. We love them all and have such wonderful memories of our times flying around the world, with them. In our Beechcraft VH-AUD, Jay flew to Andamooka via Mildura and we arrived only a day after a violent storm. One house had just the toilet bowl standing; sheets of corrugated iron were wrapped around posts, trees, etc. We again enjoyed the charming hospitality of the Dukes. I flew the next leg to Whyalla, then Jay flew to Adelaide and on to Kingscote on Kangaroo Island. Flying down that magnificent coastline, Jay commented that Australia had the most wonderful beaches in the world (we have spent holidays with Jay and Bev in Hawaii, Tahiti and Mexico – and agree!) We hired a car and drove around the island and had a swim and sunbake at Vivonne Bay, followed by a delightful barbecue with John, Jenny and baby Eve Ayliffe on the beach – a most enjoyable night. Next day we drove to Emu Bay. We bought lobsters and flew home to Melbourne via Mt Gambier. A really great trip. Less than a month later the Monash University Flying Club took six aircraft and 33 folks for a wonderful weekend cruising on the Wanera out of Mildura. It was magnificent having that old paddle steamer to ourselves and we were treated to local foods and wines and on the last night, non-alcoholic wines for the flying crews. We all loved the cruise with the interesting tales we heard, as we admired the Mighty Murray. Then we flew on up to Wentworth on the Darling River. Maurice flew the twin Beechcraft which he loved but she didn't want to start for the return trip (none of us really wanted to leave!) Fortunately flying instructor David McLean came to the rescue and coaxed her into submission. The speed of that machine was scintillating and we were back in Moorabbin in no time.

In early April a visiting professor from Germany who came to Monash, had been taking flying lessons and was loving the freer airspace in Australia. He asked us to take him to Hobart for the weekend. We had delightful flights, the scenery superb, the company exciting – it was so nice to be up, up and away again.

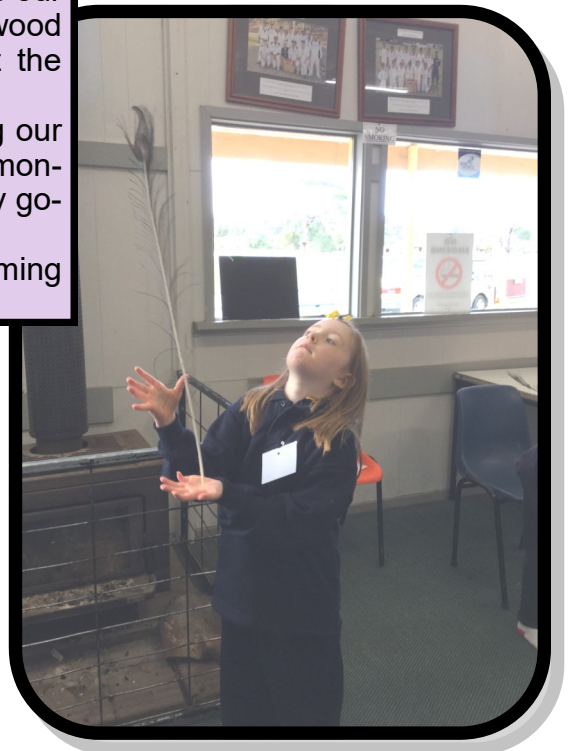

In May we took a weekend to fly to an Air Show in Broken Hill in exquisite weather and an excellent display. All this fun, I might add, while I was teaching and studying to complete my degree. Giddy at what youth can pack into life.

Dunolly footpath upgrade

Central Goldfields Shire has put up plans to improve facilities in Dunolly on the right path after councillors passed a new plan to construct footpaths leading to the township's preschool and caravan park.

Presenting a report to councillors at the ordinary council meeting on 23 August, Central Goldfields Shire Manager, Technical Services, David Sutcliffe said there were a number of streets in Dunolly without constructed footpaths.

"These works will be part of a rollout to improve facilities in Dunolly. These projects are best done in small steps and these are a part of that," Mr Sutcliffe said.

The installing of footpaths in Thompson Street and Maude Street will provide access to the caravan park and local preschool and was listed as a priority by local residents, Mr Sutcliffe's report found:

"There are not many footpaths in all. It really is limited to the main street," Mr Sutcliffe told the meeting.

Councillor John Van Beveren moved the motion to endorse the proposed plans for the footpath works and said it was "money well spent."

"Given that this money is going towards our assets in townships like Dunolly, it is important," he said.

"Giving appropriate access for our elderly, disabled and senior citizens is very important."

Seconding the motion, councillor Bob Henderson commented on the importance of having a footpath leading to the caravan park, stating the park is 90 percent full most of the year.

"A lot of people do stay in the caravan park and there are no footpaths whatsoever between there and the main street," Cr Henderson said.

The Flynn Ward councillor also told the meeting that the current path is in a state of disrepair and forces pedestrians to walk along the road, adding that the situation needs to be overcome.

"Pedestrians have no other option than to walk along the road because if they walk along the side of the street, they may well trip and break their neck," Cr Henderson said.

Councillor Henderson also stressed the importance of having a concrete path leading to the local preschool as it would improve the safety of local children.

"Especially in the warmer months, parents want their kids to walk or ride to school. They currently have to do that on the road. We want to get them off the road and onto the footpath," Cr Henderson said.

Following the installation of the proposed footpaths, Mr Sutcliffe suggested the next step for Dunolly would be a footpath to the senior citizens' club.

A sum of $135,000 has been allocated in the 2016/17 council budget for footpath upgrades in Dunolly, with works to begin early next year.

The motion was unanimously carried by councillors.
