Marie and Lin Lovel reminisced on 65 years of marriage last week as they celebrated their blue sapphire anniversary

Celebrating a Sapphire Wedding Anniversary

The moment Marie and Lin Lovel met each other, some 60 years ago, they knew they had found the one.

Celebrating their 65th Wedding Anniversary last Wednesday, Marie and Lin were married on October 31st, 1953 at the St John's Anglican Church in Dunolly and say being a team has been the key to their long marriage.

The couple have five children, are grandparents to six children and great grandparents to three.

Offering advice to newly-weds on a long and successful marriage, Marie and Lin had differing opinions of what has been their recipe for success, but both agreed that being tolerant of each other is important in any relationship.

"Be tolerant of each other and forgiving if you need to be. You've got to be a team and help each other," Marie said.

"We worked together a lot of the time, and while some people say you should never work with your partner, it worked for us. Especially as we are getting older, it's so important to help each other out."

Lin said being there for each other is important.

"You do really have to be there for each other, I'm sure it's been the key to our long marriage," he said.

The couple met at a dance in Bendigo in 1951 and while Lin said Marie was 'chasing him for weeks,' Marie says it was the other way around. "He asked me for a dance and I said yes. He walked me home that night. I think we both knew that we had found the one," Marie said.

"We dated for about two years before we got married."

"But most of the time, I just keep my mouth shut. That helps," he joked.

Lin said he still remembers Marie walking down the aisle and that he knew from the moment he met her that she was the one.

Marie and Lin had no special plans to mark the anniversary and said that it really is 'just another day'.

ROSIE'S RAMBLE

I am writing this at 10.30pm, so there is every chance it will be even more of a ramble than usual.

Learned a valuable lesson this week — do not wash new trackie-daks with anything you do not want decorated with little bits of fluff.

Real Estate ad. last week included among bedrooms and things a DINGING room. Is this where the local bell-ringers' society practices, or a room reserved for ding-dong arguments?

After the awful events in Bourke Street last week, people are wanting to know why the authorities can't stop them before they happen. It is pretty near-impossible surely, for anyone to know if some person is going to suddenly take it into his head to go out and create mayhem. We can't have a force of clairvoyants on stand-by 24/7.

I've been reading an Australian Geographic Magazine this week, and came across an article about Australian inventions that have taken the world by storm. I knew about the Hills Hoist, the Victa mower and the Nomad Aircraft, but there are dozens of things that we take for granted that were invented here. Some are permanent crease clothing (1957); the notebook (1902); the wine cask (1965); Google maps (2003-4); Sunshine harvesters(1884); rotary hoe (1921); plastic spectacle lens (1960); inflatable escape slide and raft (1965); Relenza anti-flu drug(1999) and Cardisil and Cervarix cervical cancer vaccines (2006). More next week.

Travels with Cynthia

When Mike was in the army and at one stage based at Catterick Army Base in Yorkshire, he decided to visit Scotland on his two weeks' leave.

Ben Sheann Pub near Strathyre Scotland

He found a little inn in Strathyre, at the foot of the mountains and close to some beautiful lochs. One evening he was introduced to an elderly Scottish lady, Miss Campbell, who invited him to join her in an Irish whisky. Mike happily accepted, thinking two glasses would be Miss Campbell's limit; but not so; she drank him under the table. Mike had found Miss Campbell such interesting and pleasant company that he suggested that whilst on our Ireland and Scotland tour, we should make a stop at Strathyre and catch up with Miss Campbell again. We booked into the same inn, which Mike said had changed very little since his visit about fifteen years ago. When we asked at the inn and local shops about Miss Campbell, people were vague and close-lipped until finally the postmistress decided to tell us what had happened to this nice, old lady.

Apparently, the previous New Year, the village had a two day Hogmanay celebration with Irish whisky flowing freely. When Miss Campbell set off home up the mountain on the second night, it was snowing heavily and the sad and tragic result was that, primed with whisky and good cheer, she stumbled in the snow and perished. She was found half-covered in snow with her dog beside her. That was certainly a very sad note on which to end our visit to Strathyre.

To end on a happier note, we stopped for lunch one day at a little town close to Dunfermline and Mike decided to buy me a cocktail, one he had been shown how to make once when on holiday. So he asked the barman for a Dizzy Blonde cocktail and showed him how to make it. When we were leaving, the barman asked me, "How did ye laike the cocktail because I must say the name doesnae suit ye."

What a lovely barman, but then I am a half-Scottish lassie.

DUNOLLY BRANCH CWA

Our branch AGM was held on Wednesday, 7th November, at 1.00pm. The monthly meeting was held at 11 am, followed by a light lunch.

We welcomed a new member, Faye Arnold, who is actually a returnee.

The meeting decided to hold our Christmas break-up at the Maryborough Golf Club on 5th December at 12noon. Rhonda Heather brought along some of the native animals she has knitted as souvenirs for the World conference of ACWW in Melbourne next year –very cute.

The interim Group President Lyn Fleming conducted the Election of Office Bearers. Office Bearers for 2019 are –
PRESIDENT---Rosemary Mecredy
SECRETARY—Colleen Fogarty
TREASURER—Leanne Mullan
VICE PRES. Heather Weir
ASSIST. SEC.---Joyce Vater
INTERNATIONAL—Joyce Vater
CRAFT CO-ORD. Faye Arnold
PUBLICITY---Rosemary Mecredy

The outgoing Secretary Jan Watts read her report, reminding us of our activities during 2018.

The President would like to congratulate the office bearers, and thank those who filled the positions last year.

Lyn Fleming then filled us in on upcoming events. The February Conference is on Friday, 1st March. Iceland will be the country of study next year. The State Project is Disaster Relief. As an aside, she told us that the CWA produced and sold 15,015 scones at the Melbourne Show this year. So much for trying to avoid the scones and cream image.

EMERGENCY COMMUNITY MEETING
RHEOLA CHARITY
CARNIVAL

When: Monday 12th November
Where: Rheola Hall
Time: 8.00pm

Residents of Rheola and surrounding districts are invited to attend this meeting to gauge community interest in running the 149th Carnival to be held on Easter Monday 2019. Two meetings in the past month have failed to gain enough support to run the carnival. We need more committee members and people to contribute before, during and after the event. All interested people are urged to attend.

This meeting will decide the future of the Rheola Charity Carnival!

Peter Mason (President) and the Rheola Charity Carnival Committee.

Rheola Charity Carnival Emergency Community Meeting Update

Were you able to go?

Were you willing to put up your hand to assist?

If you answered 'yes' to those two questions - Well Done and Thank You, as there is now a committee.

President: Peter Mason

Secretary: Deborah Hancock and others joined the committee.

There are always more people required, especially for setting up the event and clearing up after it is finished. There was a question whether the carnival would get to its 150th year, now there is a fighting chance. Would it matter that a well known, successful and loved carnival drops off the yearly calendar? Of course it matters. It matters on so many levels -

- * Community unity and charitable giving of time and expertise are known to boost the well-being of residents and the wider populace of the area.
- * Money is attracted into an area helping local businesses and building up networks for future events and business. Donations to local hospitals are on top of their list of grants made yearly.
- * Activities not normally available at an easy distance for regional towns and villages.
- * Competition that invokes fun and learning, for example, the Vintage Tractor Pull. These pre-1954 tractors are a link to Australia's farming past, enabling our youth to compare what happens on farms now and how much has changed and hasn't changed

The essence of this appeal was to encourage as many people as possible to offer time and resources to a valuable event now, before it fades away like so many other small town shops, banks, shows and other events.

Thankfully, that goal was achieved on Monday night. Maybe we can learn something from all-time great AFL coach, Ted Whitten, who, to inspire his team, said - "It's got to be a do-or-die effort. It's got to be a determined effort. You've got to show me all the guts and determination you've got in your body. You've got to inspire me with this last quarter finish. You've been in front all day and you've got to stay there."

“GIVING BACK”

Wow! The Market held Sunday 11th November proved to be fantastic as Mother Nature turned on a great day with lots of bright warm sunshine.

33 Stallholders and shops all contributed to the Community Market funds.

The RSL held the Remembrance Day gathering which was very well-attended and the minute's silence was respected by all.

This market BBQ was hosted by the CFA, raising much needed funds for their organisations.

The next market will be on Sunday 9th December.

The times will be from 8am till 1.00pm, for stallholders 7am set up.

For bookings please call 0474008121 and speak to a committee member.

The next Market Committee meeting will be on Tuesday 27th November at 6.30pm at which time the committee will decide how to allocate the funds we have raised. If your organisation has not yet submitted a request to the Market Committee, please submit it in writing by the 26th November.

The AGM will be held on Tuesday 11th December at 6.30pm with all positions declared vacant.

If you are interested in joining our Committee, please come along and join us.

Book now, avoid Christmas rego rush

Locals are being urged to book now to register their car, truck, motorcycle, caravan, boat or trailer or risk missing out before the holiday break.

VicRoads Acting Northern Area Manager, Cathy White, said in the first few weeks of December, the Customer Service Centres in Bendigo, Echuca, Kyneton, Maryborough, Mildura and Swan Hill experience a rush of new registration, licensing and renewal appointments.

“If you're planning on hitting Lake Eppalock in a boat or jet ski, taking that road trip in a caravan or camping with your trailer along the Murray, check your registration and make sure you book in now.

“Demand for appointments to register a vehicle can double in the lead up to Christmas and at times people can wait up to two weeks for an appointment.

“We do our best to meet the increased demand this busy time of year brings, but there is no guarantee of an appointment unless you book early,” Ms White said.

To book an appointment or for more information about registration and licencing visit vicroads.vic.gov.au or call 13 11 71.

TOUR OF McINTYRES & ORVILLE

McIntyres

On 17th September fifty members and friends went on an historical tour of McIntyres and Orville. First stop was the McIntyres football oval in the northern end of Long Bush. It is unrecognizable today but an old aerial photo clearly showed its location.

From here we went to the site of the old mining town of Orville. A few locals on the tour could not agree as to where the township was. None were right. We were actually standing in it. A few photographs and sketches could be lined up to show exactly where some of the shops were. At its peak in 1876 Orville boasted 5,000 residents with a school, post office, police station and even a newspaper. It slowly dwindled and the last shop closed around 1911.

At Orville Creek we heard about Robert Francis Burns, one of Australia's worst serial killers.

After lunch we went to the sites of McIntyres School and Post Office. Also the McIntyres Cemetery and a controversial possible site of an earlier burial ground.

Avoca Hotel, Orville

A number of people who came to Orville came from the rush in No 2 Gully at Avoca. Amongst these was James Fricker Chivers who moved his Avoca Hotel and store to the new rush. He re-erected his premises near the southern end of the main street. A peppercorn tree still marks the site. He obtained a liquor license for his store in June 1876 calling it the Avoca Hotel. This was the last store to operate at Orville.

By the start of spring 1876 the main rush was over and large gaps appeared in the main street. In 1878 the Orville Hotel burnt down and was not rebuilt. Chivers then renamed his hotel the Orville Hotel. Chivers held the contract for the Orville Post Office from about May 1880. He was also a deputy electoral registrar for the Moliagul Division.

Chivers surrendered his liquor license in September 1887 hoping to be awarded compensation. This didn't happen so he renewed it in December. The hotel finally closed in 1892. His was either the last or second last hotel to operate at Orville. Although the hotel closed down the store kept operating. In 1906 Chivers moved to a farm at Emu. He appears to have sold the store to Peter Babbe as he kept the post office going until 1911.

Scales from Chiver's store now in Dunolly Museum

Welcome Stranger 150th

On 2nd, 3rd and 5th of February 2019, the historical society will be holding celebrations to mark 150 years since the discovery of the Welcome Stranger nugget.

Dunolly Chinese Camp

The Chinese camp at Dunolly started in a small way in 1864. This is when the Gooseberry Hill and Gooseberry Flat rushes were on. A track left Thompson St opposite where the old Terminus Hotel is now. This track led to the Lord Palmerston mine and then to the main settlement on Fish Hill. A group of Chinese purchased the Lord Palmerston mine and built their huts each side of the track leading to it.

Over time more Chinese established themselves here and the north end of the track became the main street in the Dunolly Chinese camp. There are no known plans of the Chinese camp. The largest building was the Chinese store at the corner of Thompson Street. It was a good business and had many European customers. This store was the only property purchased as freehold. Its surveyed boundary shows that the street ran at 150°. A photograph of the Dunolly Goods Shed in 1922 shows a small portion of the most southerly house on the west side of the Chinese Camp.

The Borough of Dunolly was slow to rate the properties in the Chinese camp. The 1869 rate listed twelve buildings on the west side of the street and seven on the east. They were a mixture of slab or weatherboard buildings with two stores, a butcher, an eating house and fifteen houses. Two of these houses were also brothels. There was also a Joss House that was combined with a residence. In 1869 the names were only recorded for three people, so they didn't raise much in rates that year. Over the next few years the rate collector identified most of the names and added them to the register.

In 1876 there were about fifty living at the camp. This included European wives and prostitutes.

In February 1900 a fire started in one of the huts which took off and destroyed seven houses. Only the old closed store and three houses survived. It is believed that the last person to live there was Ah Chuey who died in 1924.

This plan of the Chinese Camp has been compiled from rate books, newspapers and other sources. The order of the buildings is correct but the size and shape is assumed. The numbers will be used to describe these buildings in a later edition of Tailings.

Phillips Gardens public toilet renovation

Renovation works at the public toilets in Phillips Gardens are underway.

The works will be carried out by Council’s Building and Maintenance team and will mean the public toilet facilities will be closed for two weeks.

Fire Restrictions

The CFA Chief Officer has approved the commencement of fire restrictions in the Central Goldfields Shire starting this Monday 12 November, 2018.

Have Your Say

Central Goldfields Shire Council is inviting residents to have their say on the Gordon Gardens in Dunolly.

Your input will help inform an updated Master Plan for the precinct, which will outline areas of future development.

Bordered by Market, Thompson, Bull and Barkly streets, the Gordon Gardens features a number of existing building and community facilities.

Residents are invited to a drop-in community information session on Monday 3 December from 6 to 8pm to chat to Council Administrators and staff and provide feedback into what they’d like to see retained and developed in the future.

Residents can also provide feedback via an online survey. Visit www.centralgoldfields.vic.gov.au for more information or visit the Central Goldfields Shire Council Facebook page.

MAYORAL COLUMN

Waste sites to receive upgrades

Boort Landfill and Recycle and the Inglewood Transfer Station have both received funding to upgrade their e-waste recycle facilities, including safely storing and collecting e-waste.

The upgrades are to help prepare for the Victorian Government’s e-waste ban, which will be introduced from 1 July 2019.

According to the Victorian Government, the amount of e-waste generated in Victoria is projected to increase from 109,000 tonnes in 2015 to around 256,000 tonnes in 2035.

E-waste is anything with a plug or battery that is at the end of its useful life. This includes everything from old mobile phones, computers, audio devices, refrigerators and other white goods, hair dryers, televisions, heaters and air conditioners.

For more information about the e-waste program visit sustainability.vic.gov.au/Campaigns/eWaste/About-the-ewaste-program

To find out more about waste and recycling in Loddon Shire go to www.loddon.vic.gov.au/Live/Your-home/Garbage-and-recycling

Pools and spas need safety barriers

With the warmer weather at hand and Christmas approaching, I just want to take the opportunity to remind residents about requirements for safety barriers around swimming pools and spas.

Safety barriers must be constructed around all swimming pools and spas that can hold more than 30cm (300mm) of water. This also applies to inflatable and portable pools.

Drowning is the most common cause of preventable death for children under five in Victoria, and pool barriers can help save lives.

A "safety barrier" is a fence, wall, gate or screen, and includes gates, windows, locks, latches, hinges and self-closing devices attached to them.

Information regarding safety barrier requirements can be found at the Victorian Building Authority’s website www.vba.vic.gov.au/consumers/swimming-pools

A safety barrier must be completed before a swimming pool or spa (or inflatable or portable pool) is filled with water. Before construction of a safety barrier, a building permit is required. A registered building practitioner must carry out the work if it is more than $5,000 (including labour and materials).

Council aims to educate and assist owners/occupiers to help provide a safe swimming environment. If you’re not sure about whether you need a safety barrier or if you would like more information, please contact Council’s Municipal Building Surveyor Greg Johnston on: 5494 1200.

The impossible stairs.....

are an impossible object created by Lionel Penrose and his son Roger Penrose. A variation on the Penrose triangle, it is a two-dimensional depiction of a staircase in which the stairs make four 90-degree turns as they ascend or descend yet form a continuous loop, so that a person could climb them forever and never get any higher. This is clearly impossible in three dimensions.

The "continuous staircase" was first presented in an article that the Penroses wrote in 1959, based on the so-called "triangle of Penrose" published by Roger Penrose in the British Journal of Psychology in 1958.[1] M.C. Escher then discovered the Penrose stairs in the following year and made his now famous lithograph Klimmen en dalen (Ascending and Descending) in March 1960. Penrose and Escher were informed of each other's work that same year.[2] Escher developed the theme further in his print Waterval (Waterfall), which appeared in 1961.

In their original article the Penroses noted that "each part of the structure is acceptable as representing a flight of steps but the connexions are such that the picture, as a whole, is inconsistent: the steps continually descend in a clockwise direction."

Collecting craze hits Dunolly

A new shop showcasing decades of personal collections and memorabilia has hit the streets of Dunolly.

The town is becoming a hub for collectors of all kinds and the newly opened Collections & Curiosities is adding a personal touch to the collecting industry.

The shop, which opened on the first weekend of November, is comprised of owner Jenny Scott's personal collections which she has been collating since the 1970s. The Tarnagulla local spends much of her time in Dunolly and said the shop was a good opportunity to offload some of her collections and share them with the public.

"I've had a variety of collections over the years and at several times in my life I've found my collections have over taken me," she said.

"This is one of those times so when I had the opportunity to take on this shop, I thought it would be a good idea to move some of the collections along."

Ms Scott has owned a number of collectable shops over the past 27 years and said she has seen the collecting business change and flourish.

"I've got a good idea of what people are looking for because I've kept up with the trends over the years and been a part of the trends myself," she said.

"Collecting has changed a lot but there's some really avid collectors out there, it's still going strong. When I first started collecting it was very much a nostalgia thing, but as each generation comes through they've got a different memory. These days people are remembering retro items whereas I remember all the old kitchen tools and bottles in my grandmother's kitchen. It all goes back to the fact there's an emotion behind each collection."

Ms Scott said she has collected everything from Australian pottery to birthday cards from the 1950s, perfume bottles and historical documents, much of which will eventually make its way into the Dunolly shop.

"I'd describe the collections in the shop as eclectic and quirky, it's a bit of everything from many eras," she said.

"There's a collector for everything, you just have to wait for the right one."

Collections & Curiosities is one of a number of new shops to open on a side of Broadway which until recently was somewhat neglected.

"This end of Broadway is getting a lot more vibrant which is really good," Ms Scott said.

"We're doing tourism promotion to get the word out there, that most of the collectable shops here are open on weekends and some during the week. It is definitely becoming a weekend destination."

Collections & Curiosities is located at 115 Broadway and is open on weekends from 10am to 3pm.
