Queen's Birthday Festival

This week Dunolly will again be treated to a variety of events for the Queen's Birthday Festival. Amongst the highlights is the Savoy Opera Company performing The Gondoliers, The Heidelberg Choral Society singing opera greats and a selection from Andrew Lloyd Webber, and the Dunolly Follies with the Gilbert and Sullivan Singers hamming it up with some fun numbers. Check the flyers around town and advertising on page 10 for details of these and other events.

Susan Anderson

Dunolly Follies

Continuing the local tradition of musical entertainment, we are presenting a musical extravaganza in the Dunolly Follies. The audience is invited to sing along and join in the merriment with tribute songs to the SES, CFA, CWA, Hospital, Museum, Community Garden and other local groups. Our very own talented Esmé Flett on the piano and Rodney Flett on the trombone will accompany us in musical gems including the Gendarmes Duet and Dem Bones. And who can resist singing along to Daisy Bell? An afternoon of fun and frivolity – laughter guaranteed! The grand finale to the Queen's Birthday Festival – and remember, it isn't over until the fat lady sings – Dunolly's Queen Vicky, that is! (who at her great age, still insists she can pass for 43 in the dusk with the light behind her). It is all rather tongue-in-cheek of course.

This time of year is interesting in odd places in my garden. I toss all the used mix from my flower pots into stray corners to help break up the hard soil. Sometimes bulblets or seeds are still in the mix and appear in due season to surprise me.

What a great way to recycle plastic bags, glass and other rubbish! A business is mixing it with asphalt and Vic-Roads is experimenting with it as a road surfacing material. With all the roads that need doing up, rubbish could be less of a problem than it is now if this takes off.

During a recent shopping trip, I realised that new babies aren't the only things that escape decimal conversion.- bras are still in old sizes. After all 36B looks a lot better than 92B.

My best dream at the moment is to hear George W Bush say the word of the moment—denuclearisation (if that is how it is spelt).

Definition heard on an interview— underpaid means not being paid enough. Were we all missing something?

I opened a 'retro' recipe book in Aldi the other day, and was surprised to see a recipe for a corned beef and pickle sandwich. I would have thought that was fairly simple— bread, butter, corned beef, pickle and more bread, in that order.

After all the talk about the numbers of kangaroos being killed or damaging cars on the road— I had a thought (it does sometimes happen). Why doesn't someone sell "Shoo-roos" to car drivers and donate a portion of the profits to wildlife shelters for survivors of car-on-animal encounters? Those who use these simple and cheap devices- including me- swear by them.

Another domestic drama struck yesterday when I was hanging out the washing. I have had a peg bag consisting of a ring of wire with a cloth bag hanging from it, and a plastic covered hooked handle, that has hung off the trolley for many years. The handle finally rusted through and fell off! Mind you, though the frame lasted all that time, the cloth bag has been replaced several times.

 LETTERS TO EDITOR

The Other Side

How lovely is the sight of a mother kangaroo with her Joey peeking out from the pouch; then, as her Joey grows, mum grazing on the grass and her Joey, from the safety of its mother's pouch, also able to reach the grass. We are fortunate in Australia to have this unique animal.

I know that they can be a menace for farmers, but surely there is another answer other than culling this beautiful creature.

My comment is about the road carnage and the distressing number of dead kangaroos on the side of the roads. I have been fortunate enough to never hit a kangaroo. However, I have had some near misses. Less speed is the reason I have been able to avoid an accident. When travelling at daybreak or twilight, I always allow myself enough time to travel slowly and be fully alert to the danger of kangaroos. Just because the speed limit is 100kph, it is very foolish to travel at this speed when kangaroos are on the move. Do we always have to be in such a hurry? Take time to smell the roses. I believe in the saying 'Better late down here than early up there'.

I know that I have, at times, an unrealistic love for the creatures on this planet. For example, I don't tread on ants if possible. I admire them as they are so industrious, clever, and hardworking, and I also chase flies out of the house. It makes me cry to imagine the distress our sheep are going through during live sheep export. We are taught 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you'. Does this only apply to people? My advice on how we can reduce the number of kangaroos dying on our roads is the following:

- Especially during times of drought when there is little food in the paddocks for the kangaroos and they come to the side of the roads where they can find food. This is the time when we need to drive at a sensible speed (not 100kph) and be ever alert to the possibility of kangaroos being on the side of the road, for example, daybreak and twilight.
- Allow yourself extra time to get to your destination.

Remember 'Better late down here than early up there'.

Our kangaroos are beautiful and unique animals and we, in Australia, are fortunate to have them in our midst.

There is so much research being carried out in order to find cures for medical conditions. Surely some research could be carried out to find a solution to the kangaroo population problem, other than culling. Maybe we could persuade the kangaroos to visit birth control clinics. There I go again, being unrealistic.

2018/2019 Council Budget

The Central Goldfields Shire Council recently released its draft 2018/2019 budget documents and invited the general public to review the draft budget and make submissions to the Council.

I've read the documents and put a submission to the Council, and by my reckoning I documented 26 errors, 27 requests for clarification and 17 requests for more information.

While I recognise some of the errors documented and requests for clarification may be minor or misunderstandings on my part, the volume of errors and clarification requests is a concern and does raise the question as to the soundness of the budget and the budget information presented to the Central Goldfields residents for review.

I feel the Council needs to lift its game.

Quiz Wizard

For quite a long time now I have been listening to the personable Steve Martin on Ballarat ABC. Every morning he conducts a general knowledge quiz and people ring in from many Central Victorian towns, but the only local contestant I have ever heard on this segment from Dunolly is Alan. Alan is most knowledgeable and frequently gives correct answers. Recently he had a Clean Sweep, meaning he got every question correct. I do not know Alan but would like to congratulate him as a most worthy representative for Dunolly.

Dunolly...A Sense of Place

Behind the scenes there is movement! We have had donations of tiles from community members and also from Johnson tiles...but would still love more.. especially bright colours and black. We are happy to collect, if that makes life easier. We have also been given some underglazes, from which we are now making samples so that we know what colours we have for our tile decoration.

Next week... 13th and 14th June, we will have Deborah Halpern back again to guide us in the first stages of our sculptures. Please note change of venue...to the Ministry of Fun, 120 Broadway ...for these sessions....10am - 4pm. Everyone is welcome to come for all, or part of these times. Join in or just see what's happening.

Story collecting is continuing, and also contacting groups to explain what we are doing. If you want to be involved and would like more information, ring Anna, 0490 077 902, or send an email to:

Cardboardia Creations Monday Morning

As part of the Queen's Birthday long weekend, the festivities continue with an extravaganza of cardboard ships. The two creations were made by our wonderful artists Anna Ashton, Greg Holland, and Robert and Heather Cooper. Be ready for a bit of fun and a smash up at 11am on Monday morning behind the Town Hall. Cardboard swords and shields are available for a (gentle) battle between a Viking ship against Boatie McBoatface, the Tugboat.

We are inviting children (accompanied by mum or dad) to come along to man the boats and show us adults how it's done. Let the battle begin! The remains - of the boats, that is, not the children - will be transported back to Rachel's paddock for a monster bonfire at 5pm until 6.30pm. All welcome - drive down Gooseberry Hill Road and enter gate onto paddock. Bring a torch. Seats will be set up around the fire.

Thanks to the Dunolly Community Neighbourhood House, the Coopers, Jan Brock, Jan Stephenson and many other wonderful locals for supplying the cardboard. We have enough to build the Spanish Armada next year!

Last Man from Dunolly

Michael Whittle composed the emotive ballad Last Man From Dunolly for friends and family travelling to France for ANZAC day. He was overwhelmed with attention after the ABC's Australia All Over program broadcast the song nationally. Mr Whittle said the 5,533 Australian soldiers who died in the 1916 battle of Fromelles inspired the song. ABC radio presenter Ian 'Macca' McNamara announced Last Man From Dunolly as the top song of the year.

Mr McNamara, whose show features on 774 ABC's Sunday morning schedule, said Mr Whittle's composition was a "great little Australia song".

"Lots of little country towns like Dunolly lost lots of folk aged 18 to 25, so it's a little piece that says a lot about Australia and Australian country towns."

We are delighted that Mike Whittle will be coming to Dunolly to sing his ballad in The Queen's Birthday production of the Dunolly Follies.

Cancellation

The Saturday morning event at the Court House "From Tin Whistle to Grand Opera" has been cancelled.

Information about the performers such as Charles Thatcher and Madam Carandini who came to Dunolly from the late 1850s is on display at the Museum in Broadway. The Goldfields Historical & Arts Society will be open on the Saturday and Sunday of the Queen's Birthday Festival.

Shire successful in Fire Access Road funding

Central Goldfields Shire was successful in obtaining funding from the Country Fire Authority and the Victorian Government's Fire

Access Road Subsidy Scheme (FARSS).

Through the 2017/18 FARSS, two Fire Access Roads have been constructed at Timor's Browns Road and Gane Street in Talbot with $6,378.78 and $11,771.16 being granted for the projects respectively. The Fire Access Roads will allow access for emergency service vehicles and local residents to evacuate if a crisis scenario should arise.

Gane Street provides a secondary emergency access for the Talbot Primary School to the north. Local residents on Browns Road, which is 2.64 kilometres in length, are concerned about maintaining road access during the fire season.

The Shire was also successful in receiving funding of $7,350 to complete a Fire Access Road at Mortlocks Road in Archdale which will be completed in December this year.

Central Goldfields Shire Chief Administrator Noel Harvey said the two Fire Access Roads will be of a huge benefit to the community.

"The Fire Access Roads on Gane Street and Browns Road will significantly improve local residents' safety and access for emergency services, particularly the CFA," Mr Harvey said.

"We are really pleased to be able to deliver this project for the community and we also look forward to establishing the Fire Access Road on Mortlocks Road, which has been a sought after initiative."

Background information

The total length of Fire Access Roads throughout the Shire is 51.7 km of which 10 km is maintained to standard above a Fire Access Road. The remaining 41.8 km is maintained to a fire access standard.

Graffiti prevention project a great success

More than 220 local students, aged 10 to 18 years of age, have participated in the graffiti prevention project – 'Sorry About Your Wall'.

Funded by the Victorian Government's Community Crime Prevention Program, the project was a partnership between Central Goldfields Shire, Victoria Police and the Central Goldfields Art Gallery.

Central Goldfields Shire General Manager Infrastructure Assets and Planning Rebecca Stockfeld said the project had been well received by local schools.

"It has been fantastic to see a positive initiative around graffiti prevention being carried out across our community.

"Graffiti is a significant issue for most councils so it's great to see our local young people getting involved in this project which was led by a professional graffiti and mural artist."

The graffiti murals created by students will now go on display at schools across the Shire.

The 'Sorry About Your Wall' project aimed to:

- Contribute to the development of a youth-led graffiti prevention strategy and action plan for the municipality
- Inform young people about the laws pertaining to graffiti
- Provide art instruction and resources to produce privacy screen murals

Facilitate a travelling road show event which showcases works created by schools in graffiti hot spot areas

Rego relief for families in Central Goldfields Shire

Central Goldfields Shire residents have embraced changes to car registration by taking up the Andrews Government's new, flexible short-term vehicle registration options.

The Member for Western Victoria, Jaala Pulford, said a total of 2,517 Central Goldfields Shire residents have signed up for three or six-monthly registration since the changes were enacted in January, 2018.

Ms Pulford said the flexible payment option was relieving financial pressure on families and providing a boost to household budgets.

"We're relieving financial pressure on Central Goldfields families by giving them the flexibility to choose a payment plan that suits their needs," Ms Pulford said.

"Already, more than half a million people are experiencing the welcome relief of choosing more flexible and easy registration options and that's something that's helping budgets across Western Victoria," she said.

Of the eligible vehicle owners who have opted for the budget friendly short-term registration options, 51% have selected the three-month option and 49% have chosen to register their vehicles for six months.

Across Victoria, more than 24,000 people are signing up to the new short-term vehicle registrations each week.

The flexible payment option is proving most popular with the 26-35 year age group.

Owners of cars, utes, vans, motorcycles and other light vehicles are now able to make the switch to shorter term registration, or continue with an annual registration fee by creating a myVicRoads account.

Creating a myVicRoads online account will allow owners to choose the registration option that suits them, and receive electronic reminders when their registration is due.

The Government has invested $12 million to upgrade VicRoads registration systems, paving the way for short term registration.

To find out the facts on short term registration or to sign up for a myVicRoads account, visit:

www.vicroads.vic.gov.au.

What's on at the Hub

Craft Exhibition

There are some amazing talents out there in Dunolly and surrounds, and I, for one, am looking forward to exhibiting the wonderful crafts that will be showcased at the Arts Hub on the weekend of July 7th/8th. To exhibit, the cost is $1 per item. You can just display the item, tell its story if you like, or you can put a price on it and sell the item. The visitors who come to Craft Exhibitions love to purchase something gorgeous, so pop a price on. We don't want a percentage of what you sell; we just want to showcase your talents. If you want to put in quilts, they usually are hung to show them off better, so please pop rings or a cloth pocket on the rear of the quilt so it can be hung without fear of damage. If that is impossible, don't worry, we can lay it out on the tables. Please give me a call on 0418 875 453 if you have any questions. Entry forms can be accessed from the Neighbourhood Centre or online at the Dunolly Arts Hub Facebook page.

Dawn Lim's - Landscapes in Acrylics

The next workshop will be held Saturday 16th June at the Arts Hub. The workshop goes from 10am-2pm and the cost is $30 per session. Please bring your own paints and canvas. There are about four ladies attending at the moment, but come along if you want to join in.. Fire is lit, so it's toasty warm.

Don't Forget

We have a small spinning group about to start up at the hub. If you would like to join in, watch this space for further details. Don't forget Tai Chi on Tuesday at 10am, Thursday at 10am and Friday evening at 6pm.

What are your thoughts on a Repair Café with a sewing theme; repairs & workshops in sewing style? Weekends?

Please let us know via the Facebook Page or give me a ring on 0418 875 453.

As some of you may know, I (Lynda) am part of a duo with Susan Day on community radio. We have a show called Discovering Dunolly on Goldfields FM 99.1 and we broadcast at 5pm on Tuesdays. From this week on our show will also be repeated on Thursdays at 6pm, so you can catch us twice a week.

Travels with Cynthia

Recently I watched the Grace Kelly story with Nicole Kidman playing the lead and I was most disappointed that the Monte Carlo casino barely got a mention and no one went there. When I wrote about being in Monaco when Grace and Rainier got married, I mentioned that we three girls stood outside the casino watching the arrival of many of the celebrity guests from the wedding, but we weren't game to enter. So next time I was in France with Liz, years later and staying in Cannes, we decided we must visit the famous casino before we travelled on. We still had the borrowed car so we dressed up in evening clothes and headed off, being told the journey would take us about an hour along the coast. It was fairly late when we left as we considered casino visitors never turned up in the early evening. The first hurdle we encountered was road detour signs as apparently road works took place at night so as not to inconvenience the tourists. The famous tunnel was closed and we started to get lost by taking side roads, our only landmark to watch out for being Nice as it was about halfway. After what seemed hours, and it probably was, we saw with relief the Monaco road sign.

When we entered the brightly lit casino we were disappointed to see that not many people bothered with their glad-rags and were wearing everyday clothes. We wandered through a number of rooms with gambling machines and blackjack tables and I seem to remember playing roulette for a very short time when we realised it was about two in the morning and we had to head off next day, so with the roundabout journey back we decided we'd have to leave. The most disappointing thing about that night was that we discovered afterwards that we never found the main casino room where all the action was but hadn't gone any further than the preliminary areas after all that driving. At least we were able to say we've been to Monte Carlo like the Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo. Wish we had.

Around school this week

HEADLICE

We have MANY cases of head lice at the moment. Please check your child's hair TONIGHT and treat if necessary. Students can't be at school with live lice. You also need to RECHECK days later and then a week later again. Please check our Facebook page for some handy hints from parents for keeping head lice at bay.

VICTORIA'S JOURNEY OF REMEMBRANCE INCURSION

Today the senior students watched a live theatre performance of Victoria's Journey of Remembrance. The show is a thoughtful examination of the ANZAC story, from its birth in 1915 until today. The play was designed to assist students understanding the legacy of ANZAC, while reflecting on Australia's role in the world and how comprehensively our military services have changed.

Dunolly Field and Game Club Award

At our shoot on Sunday 27th May, our treasurer Margaret Davies, was presented with a 'Victorian Volunteer Award, Ripon District,' by Louise Staley MP for Ripon.

Marg has been a member since her husband joined in the mid eighties. She helps out at shoots as required and also runs the nominations desk on shoot days. She was secretary of the club in the nineties until her husband died, after which she remained a member and took on the treasurer's job. She is a keen worker and a guiding hand for the younger members. Although she is a non-shooter, Marg supports the club in any way possible. When we lost our shooting ground in 2004, Marg was the first one to start looking for a new ground. She took it upon herself to make enquiries. When we were offered our new ground, she came out with us to talk to the surrounding neighbours to explain what we were about.

I don't think the club would be where it is today without Marg and her "can do"; attitude.

Congratulations Marg on a job well done!

From the President and Members of the Dunolly Field and Game Club.

John Flynn and his wondrous inventions

Your story of John Flynn, of the Royal Flying Doctor Services jogged my memory of research work that I had done on wire strainers.

John Flynn Sr, a school teacher, was transferred from Moliagul to Macedon some time during the 1880s as Flynn was granted a Victorian patent number, number 4678 on August 21, 1886 for an improved wire strainer. His invention was also granted New Zealand number 2001 on September 6, 1886.

It would seem these patents lapsed as we next find Flynn and James Frederick Kilburn, Engineer of 15 Howitt Street, South Yarra, apply for a NZ patent for an invention for an improved wire strainer and key; it being given number 2439 on July 22, 1887. It was also patented in Victoria on August 2, 1887, number 5270, and Tasmania, number 472, 1887. Eventually patents were taken out in each state and in America. I have used the American drawings for clarity, however, the finished article has a straight arm B with ear like lugs D.

The wire strainer became an immediate success, being sold by major departmental stores, eg F Lassetter & Co, Sydney, McLean Bros., & Rigg, Melbourne.

Within a year of the successful 1887 patent, John Flynn had quit teaching, becoming "an agent for the sale of Mildura land and water rights."

A brief description of this wire strainer is that it strains the wire at any point between the posts and are then left permanently on the wire so that they may again be used for straining the wire when it sags or becomes slack. The body of this wire-strainer consists of a barrel which may be cylindrical at one end of which a strain-retaining finger is formed standing out at right angles to the barrel.

The extremity of the said finger is provided with a hook or bent point to retain and prevent the wire slipping off. The strain-retaining finger is the principal feature of this invention as by its use all descriptions of loose strain retaining pins or pawls are dispensed with.

At the other end of the barrel, two projecting claws or hooks are formed, for the purpose of gripping the wire to enable it to be wound upon the barrel as the strainer is rotated.

Further description of the strainer is available, but I think if I include it, this the article will become boring.

The relative position and form of the said claws or hooks may be varied. In the first and most preferable arrangement, the claws or hooks project outwardly from the end of the barrel and are formed parallel to each other, having their extremities pointing in opposite directions. A second and alternative arrangement of the claws consists in placing them at one end of the barrel, but at about right angles to each other. A third and other alternative arrangement consists in making the claws project from the periphery of the barrel near one end - one of such claws being in the form of a tapered stud perpendicular to the barrel, the other being curved in the form of a helix so as to lead the wire on to the barrel when the strainer is rotated.

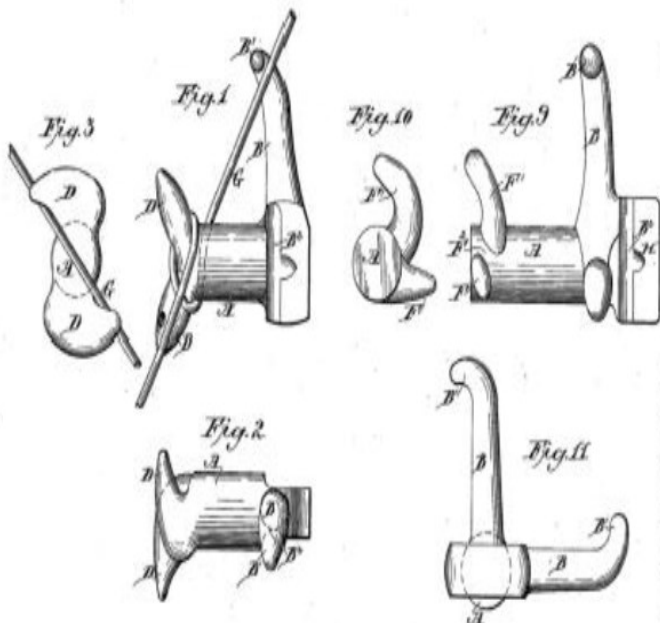

To rotate the wire-strainer, a key is provided, having a slot formed at one end to fit the flattened part of the retaining finger when it joins the barrel. A thumb-screw is fitted to the key for the purpose of securing it to the strainer whilst the operation of straining is being performed. An eye is formed at the other extremity of the key for receiving a handle

WR Round 7

Football

U11.5

The kids are starting to show good passages of play and transition the ball better and better each week. They kicked their first goals of the year this round. Keep up the good work kids.

U14.5

The pressure the U14.5s took to the game on the weekend was great to see. With a few out of the side, everyone else stepped up with Jake, Monique and Mia playing their best game of the season. Thank you to all U11.5 who come and play each week with us.

Grant Raven

Thank you to Hayden and Beau for umpiring the juniors and for helping running water, and to all the volunteers who assist the reserves and seniors.

Seniors

Our boys tried hard against a fitter combination in Harcourt, but were outclassed as the day progressed. However, a few positives coming out of the game was our first quarter which was very competitive, and with our best start to a game this season scoring 3 goals with a few other opportunities that maybe should have been majors.

A number of our players having experienced senior football for the first time in their playing careers showed signs of starting to adjust to what is needed to play at this level. With improved pressure on the ball carrier and endeavour at the ball, it is only a matter of time before we see ourselves in front at the final siren.

On 16th June, the Club is very excited to welcome former Melbourne AFL star Russell Robertson to the Eagles nest, and taking the field, which will no doubt give a boost to the guys around him.

After the game Russell will be showing off his musical prowess playing along with Phil Ceberano at the Dunolly town hall. Tickets still available so make sure you are there for a fun night. Contact Steve Hawkes 0407 094 597.

Netball

With a trip over to Harcourt, it was a hard slog all day for our netballers with only 1 win on the Board.

Under 13s

Again the under 13s came up against a strong and fast side playing Harcourt this week. The girls tried hard all the way up the court, but they could not stop Harcourt running away with the win. Final score Dunolly 10 to Harcourt 37. Incentive went to Ella for another great game this week.

Under 15s

The under 15s also had a challenging game against Harcourt. Similar to the Under 13s, the 15s couldn't quite match the skill level that Harcourt showed. The girls are continuing to improve each week and are playing better together as the season progresses. Final score Dunolly 7 to Harcourt 35. Caitlyn earned the incentive this week for her determined game in the midcourt.

Under 17s

Dunolly came out with guns blazing and were up by 5 at the end of the first quarter. Harcourt worked their way back into the match during the second quarter to lower the margin to 2 at half time. In the third, Dunolly were able to push that back out to 4, but Harcourt came home strong in the last quarter and the Dunolly girls were just able to hold off their comeback to win the match by 1. Final score Dunolly 30 to Harcourt 29. Better players were Maddie and Ellen.

C Grade

The first half was riddled with bad choices and lazy play, which saw Harcourt up by 1 at the half time break in a slow game. After some positional changes in the 3rd, the Dunolly girls found some gusto and created some great turnovers and converted when they needed to. In the last quarter the girls unfortunately fell back into bad habits and their passes let them down. Final score Dunolly 24 to Harcourt 27. Shelby received the incentive this week.

B Grade

B grade weren't able to play strong competitive netball this week and Harcourt were able to easily run away with the match. Final score Dunolly 20 to Harcourt 54. No incentives were awarded this week, although Steph G and Maddie were the better players.

A Grade

Something must have been in the Dunolly water Saturday morning because again we couldn't quite play the type of netball the girls are capable of. Dunolly's overall work rate was low with poor passages of play and a low conversion rate meaning that Harcourt was again able to run away with the match easily. Final score Dunolly 22 to Harcourt 71. No incentives were awarded although Charlee and Soph tried hard throughout the game.

DUNOLLY GOLF CLUB

The winners of the June Monthly Medal are-
Josh Hunt, Nett 60 from Arthur Deason, Nett 62
Shenae Hunt, Nett 78 from Cheryl Lovel, Nett 80.

The Junior results were-

Rory, Nett 87 from Lachie Hall, Nett 104

Nearest The Pin was Ian Hargreaves on the 6th, Rob Scholes on the 13th and Rod Stuart on the 5th.

This Saturday will see a Stableford event for those who are not away for the Queen's Birthday weekend. Good luck to all!

SOCIAL CYCLISTS

A small but dedicated group met at Eddington last Sunday morning regardless of the frosty frost, for a 20 km ride on quiet roads, south east of Eddington, arriving back at Septembre for their superb scones, jam and cream, coffee and a post-ride chat.

The next ride will be on Sunday 17th June. Details in The Welcome Record before then.

Carpet Bowls

Three very equal teams this week, each having two wins and one loss. My team had three losses. We are about mid season and the scores are becoming very interesting. Our 50th birthday is coming up in August. We look forward to catching up with past players for our celebrations.
