

Pleasant Sunday Afternoon

Esmé Flett - organ and Rodney Flett - trombone

On Sunday, 24th March, we were treated to a delightful concert to showcase the superb Fincham organ in St John's Anglican Church, plus the talents of local musicians, all drawn together under the direction of Esmé Flett. Esmé knows the organ like the proverbial "back of her hand" and can entice very sweet sounds as well as a huge roar when all stops are pulled out. Canon Heather warmly welcomed everyone to the concert. Solo and choral works by Handel, JS Bach and Mozart were arranged for soprano, organ and trombone, with Rachel Buckley singing beautifully and Rodney Flett's trombone very subtly augmenting the organ. Vinnie Bourke demonstrated his fine trumpet playing with the second movement of Haydn's trumpet concerto. These artists were supported by performances from members of the talented Steed family, with Ian playing the organ and leading the singing of a couple of favourite hymns and his nephews Andy, David and Lachlan playing lively interpretations of songs they remembered from Sunday School. This thoroughly enjoyable concert was then followed by a delicious afternoon tea in the hall.

Welcome Record readers will have another opportunity to listen to the Fincham organ at the special church service on Sunday 9th June as part of this year's Queen's Birthday Weekend Gilbert & Sullivan Festival. A second Pleasant Sunday Afternoon concert is also anticipated to be part of the 150th anniversary celebrations for St John's in December this year.

ROSIE'S RAMBLE

I have been afflicted with the summer flu this week, so I haven't been doing a lot of rambling.

Had a phone call today telling me that the NBN was here and that I would lose my landline within 24 hours. Rang Telstra — it is a scam. I think it is an old one though.

I was wondering what would happen to the sweet peas that grew from seed at the wrong time of the year. They died!

My daughter was telling me about something that had really annoyed her, and told me she was gumpified. Isn't that a great word?

According to the RACV magazine we are in for another show in the sky on the evenings of 6th/ 7th of May when the earth's orbit intersects with that of Halley's comet — at 5am.

New Private Health Website

On Monday 1st April 2019, the Office of the Commonwealth Ombudsman launched a new version of its Privatehealth.gov.au website.

The website is Australia's leading independent source of consumer information about private health insurance. It is also the only website that allows users to search the features and premium costs of every policy available in Australia.

The website's new features include:

- Information about the government's Private Health Insurance Reforms, including new product tiers for hospital policies (Gold, Silver, Bronze and Basic).
- An improved search feature that allows users to filter down results based on the services they are most interested in, or the premium they are prepared to pay. Search results can be displayed in a vertical 'file' format, allowing users to compare policies side by side.
- A new, simpler Private Health Insurance Statement (PHIS) which summarises the most important features of every policy. Users can download, print or email PHISs to enable them to consider the information at a time that suits them.
- A new premium estimator so users can decide whether to compare policies according to the base premiums or an estimated premium that takes into account their rebate and/or Lifetime Health Cover (LHC) loading.
- An updated look and feel, including compatibility with mobile devices.

Improvements to existing features such as the Agreement Hospitals finder which shows which hospitals are covered by each insurer.

During the reform's transition period from Monday 1st April 2019 to Wednesday 1st April 2020, health insurers will be transferring existing policies across to the new tiers gradually. The website will always include all available policies, as health insurers are required to keep information on the privatehealth.gov.au website up to date at all times.

Arthritis, food allergies and chronic fatigue linked to "leaky gut"

Your joint pain may be the result of general wear and tear or it could be linked to food sensitivities or allergies, which can lead to systemic inflammation and autoimmune rheumatoid arthritis.

Food sensitivities and excessive consumption of processed foods can cause inflammatory damage to the intestinal wall lining of the digestive system, which may lead to nutrient deficiencies and intestinal permeability, also known as "leaky gut".

Leaky gut is considered to be a contributing factor in the cause of arthritis, autoimmune disease, chronic skin conditions, migraines, brain fog, chronic fatigue and food intolerances. The intestinal lining consists of tight gap junctions (holes) that normally only allow small particles including amino acids (proteins), carbohydrates and essential fatty acids to pass into the bloodstream to provide cells with the energy they require. When these tight gap junctions become damaged, they loosen and allow larger food particles, toxins and bacteria into the bloodstream causing cell damage.

This triggers inflammation and stimulates an immune reaction causing health problems. Arthritis is usually treated with anti-inflammatory medications such as aspirin and non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAID's), which have also shown to compromise intestinal permeability in some individuals. Therefore, by identifying and treating the cause you can take control of your arthritis. Through dietary modification, lifestyle advice, nutritional and herbal medicine you can reduce arthritic pain and improve your quality of life and long-term health outcome without the use of drugs.

For further advice and to discuss your treatment options consult a natural health care professional.

Maryborough Ambulance Auxiliary Tips on how to prevent and avoid falls

The Auxiliary brings you this month's health article.

This month we are talking about falls and how to prepare, protect or respond if you are faced with this scenario.

In case of emergency, always call Triple 000.

Falls are one of the most common causes of injury attended by ambulance paramedics. Prevent falls by identifying and eliminating potential hazards and exercise to improve balance and strength.

The following steps are a few ways falls may be prevented:

- Have good lighting in all areas
- Ensure walkways are kept clear at all times
- Wipe up spills immediately
- Have non-slip flooring and keep floors clear of loose mats and rugs
- Ensure cupboard doors are kept closed
- Install grab rails in the bathroom
- Wear 'safe' shoes with low heels and a slip resistant sole
- Exercise regularly to maintain balance
- Use sturdy steps with a handrail
- Do not use chairs or stools to reach high objects
- Keep electric cords out of walkways and tape down along skirting boards
- Have regular eye sight check ups
- Maintain outside surfaces and pathways for cracks

For further information visit:

Ambulance Auxiliaries play a vital role in raising funds to purchase medical equipment and resources to support their local branch, over and above what is provided through government funding and the usual budget process.

These additional funds enable Ambulance Victoria to provide local paramedics with training, equipment and resources that ensure better patient outcomes and a healthier Victorian community.

If you would like to donate or get involved in the Maryborough Ambulance Auxiliary please contact Dianne on 0448 614 004.

Council honours Jack Worrall

Central Goldfields Shire Council has honoured past Carlton Football Club coach, Australian cricketer and journalist John ‘Jack’ Worrall by naming a new street after the local sporting legend. At Tuesday’s (26/03) Council Meeting, Council endorsed the naming of Worrall Court in Maryborough’s Whirrakee Rise Estate.

Born near Timor in 1861, Worrall is one of the most successful local sportspeople after coaching Carlton FC to their first three premierships in 1906, 1907 and 1908; touring England with the Australian Test cricket team and being inducted in the AFL and Carlton Halls of Fame in 1996.

The Goldfields Region Sports Association also presents an annual medal bearing Worrall’s name to an outstanding local sportsperson.

Central Goldfields Shire Chief Administrator Noel Harvey said this region has a proud sporting history and Jack Worrall is worthy of recognition in this way.

“We’re proud to honour Jack Worrall, who did so much for football, cricket and sport in general.

“Even though Jack passed away in the early 20th century, we’re still very proud of his accomplishments to this day.”

Great turn out for Pyramid Hill Fiesta

It was great to see such a fantastic turn out for the Pyramid Hill Fiesta with crowds up on last year’s event.

Held on Saturday 23rd March, the Fiesta was once again a wonderful celebration of diversity in the Pyramid Hill community. The event welcomed visitors from Melbourne, Bendigo, Barham, Koondrook, Echuca, Rochester and Deniliquin, including Filipino and non-Filipino community members.

The event opened with the Pre-School children taking part in the Santacruzén Parade. It also saw traditional Philippine dances and fashion display, joint performances by Pyramid Hill College and St Patrick’s Primary School, music, children’s entertainment and delicious food.

Another highlight was the address from Wyndham City Councillor Walter Villagonzalo. Cr Villagonzalo came to Australia from the Philippines in 1986 and is heavily involved in Wyndham’s migrant community.

I’d also like to acknowledge Council’s Parks and Gardens team who received a heartfelt thanks and appreciation from the Fiesta Committee and Pyramid Hill Progress Association for their hard work preparing the Kelly Park precinct for the event. It certainly looked superb for the Fiesta.

Pet registrations due Wednesday 10th April

A reminder for dog and cat owners in our Shire that pet registration renewals are due by Wednesday 10th April 2019. You should have already received your pet registration renewal notice.

Every dog and cat over the age of three months must be registered. If you are registering your dog or cat for the first time with Council, you must provide Council with evidence that your pet has a microchip. You will also be provided with a lifelong registration tag for your pet.

Registering a cat or dog helps improve the chances of your pet being returned should it become lost.

Microchipping dogs and cats also helps Council reunite you with your pet if it loses its registration tag and becomes lost. The microchip allows Council officers to scan your pet and obtain your contact details.

Remember to also ensure you keep your pet’s microchip details up to date. You can do this online through the Central Animal Register at www.car.com.au.

If you have recently purchased your dog or cat, a Transfer of Ownership form can be downloaded through the register.

Dogs that are registered with Council as farm working dogs do not require a microchip nor have to wear a registration tag while they are working.

If your dog or cat is no longer with you, please let Council know so it can update its records and ensure you no longer receive registration renewals for that pet.

For more information on registering your pet, visit www.loddon.vic.gov.au or phone Council’s Local Laws staff on 5494 1200.

Support helps Central Goldfields students thrive

Over $875,000 has been allocated to students in Central Goldfields Shire from the Victorian Government's Camps, Sports and Excursions Fund - making sure disadvantaged students don't miss out on vital activities with their peers.

Member for Western Victoria, Jaala Pulford, said $876,675 in payments has been made to students in Central Goldfields Shire since 2015 from the Camps, Sports and Excursions Fund.

Since 2015, a total of 1,018,213 payment have been allocated across Victoria to families experiencing disadvantage, ensuring students can attend extra-curricular activities such as school trips, swimming and sport programs, outdoor education programs, excursions and incursions.

Ms Pulford said the Labor Government wants to ensure that every child has access to the world of learning opportunities that exist beyond the classroom.

"For students across Central Goldfields Shire, these payments will mean that no student misses out on joining their classmates in important and fun educational activities," Ms Pulford said.

"Since 2015, we've distributed more than $875,000 in payments to families and schools in Central Goldfields Shire to ensure that every student, regardless of where they live or their family's situation, can participate in fun, educational activities that enrich their learning and school experience," she said.

In 2018, a record 222,000 students – or more than one in four government school students – received the CSEF, ensuring that no child misses out on joining their classmates in important and fun educational activities.

Families holding a valid means-tested concession card or temporary foster parents, with a child enrolled in a Victorian government or non-government school, are eligible to apply.

Payments of $125 per year for eligible primary school students, and $225 per year for eligible secondary school students are made directly to the school and are tied to the student.

Supporting men's health with a funding boost for men's sheds

The Andrews Government is building or upgrading men's sheds for communities all over Western Victoria.

Member for Western Victoria, Jaala Pulford, today announced this year's Men's Shed grant applications are now open.

The Labor Government is investing nearly $900,000 to build, upgrade or refurbish men's sheds, which play a key role safeguarding the emotional and social health and wellbeing of Victorian men.

Men's sheds are safe and productive spaces for men to work on common projects, form friendships and give back to their community. There are more than 360 sheds across Victoria.

Ms Pulford said the grants are available to communities across Western Victoria to build and upgrade sheds, so more people can benefit from the valuable services and companionship a men's shed offers.

"We're supporting men's sheds to help more people from Western Victoria form friendships, work on common projects and contribute to their community," Ms Pulford said.

"Men's sheds can have extraordinary benefits to men's physical and mental health and wellbeing, and provide support to their local communities through volunteer work," Ms Pulford said.

Men's shed groups can apply for grants of up to $80,000 for the construction of a new sheds or the replacement, extension and refurbishment of an existing shed.

What's happening with recycling?

In light of recent events affecting recycling services of some councils in Victoria (mainly in Melbourne) a few community members have expressed their concern as to the impact on recycling services in Loddon.

I would like to reassure our community that Council's waste services contractor, Veolia, has confirmed it remains unaffected by the recycling industry issues brought on by recent processing plant closures in Melbourne, and that it is 'business as usual'.

Currently all recycling material collected within Loddon Shire is transported and processed in either Bendigo at Endeavour (owned by JJ Richards), or the Materials Recovery Facility in Echuca which is owned by Veolia.

Once collected, Veolia or one of Veolia's sorting partners uses a number of technologies to pre-screen and manually separate the recyclables into viable streams that will enable their reuse in manufacturing processes.

I'll be providing more information about Council's recycling services over the coming weeks, including the recycling processes for certain items (mattresses, white goods, tyres, metal, green waste, and so on).

Did you know?

To Wednesday 20th March this year, kerbside pickups saw a total of 48 tonnes of recyclables diverted from landfill and reprocessed. For kerbside, transfer stations and landfill stream, 415 tonnes of recycling was collected for reprocessing.

Travels with Cynthia

Instead of continuing from where I left off last time I am reverting to my childhood days when I was first taken on trips to visit relatives.

My mother's sister, Aunt Jean, had married a Tasmanian politician and lived in Hobart, so we used to visit her fairly regularly. My mother didn't like air travel so we used to go across Bass Strait on the Taroona in the days before ship stabilisers. Being one of the choppiest stretches of water in the world, the crossing was rarely smooth. I can remember on the first occasion trotting along the deck, laughing at the way. I kept wobbling from side to side and wondering why all those people were leaning over the side.

Mother was reluctant to tell me about sea sickness because she believed it was a state of mind. As a result when my brothers asked what the cuspidors were for, attached to the bunk heads, she told them they were to put their crusts in so as not to mention sea sickness. Needless to say both the boys were sick later and didn't realise what they should have used.

My mother told me later that I must have a cast iron stomach because it seemed that I was the only survivor of the mal de mer.

When I was about 10 my Aunt Margie and Uncle Frank opened a branch of Grandpa's real estate agency in Burnie, on the North coast of Tasmania, and I was invited to stay in the school holidays. This time I was to go alone by air. Back then the passenger planes were small DC9s, very noisy and bumpy.

There were only about 20 or 30 passengers and the air hostesses took around barley sugar to prevent our ears blocking. It was quite an experience for a ten-year-old and although I wasn't actually scared I do remember being very relieved when we touched down and I recognised the welcoming face of my Aunt Margie.

Freemasons Support Scout Camps

St George Lodge of Dunolly nominated Mataranka Scout and Guide Camp at Goldsbrough as the charity to be supported by the Freemasons Foundation of Victoria who have generously made available $5,000.00 to every Masonic Lodge in the state to use for support of charitable causes.

The Campsite Committee received the full grant of $5000.00 to help with roof repairs on the Mataranka building.

When presenting the cheque during the annual Baden Powell Lodge awards night at Waverley Masonic Centre, Worshipful Brother Ken Calder indicated that a new water tank would also be a big help.

A small crowd funding exercise then ensued where a total of $2,220.00 was raised which will fully pay for a new 22,000 litre water tank.

During the evening awards were made to Venturer groups for magnificent volunteer works carried out at various camping facilities used by Scouting groups.

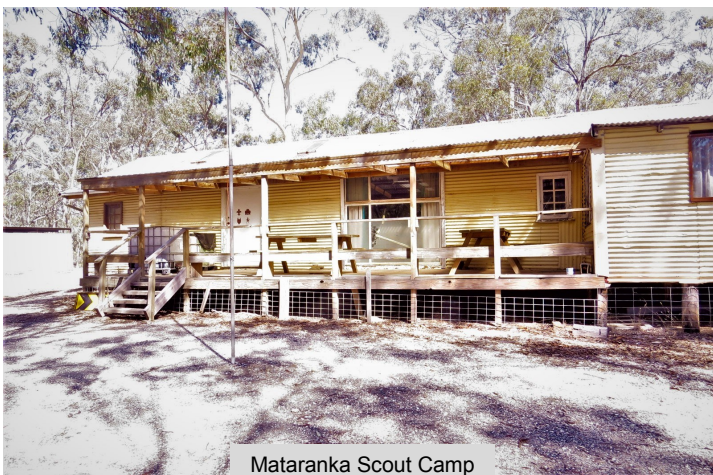

Further presentations of cheques were made; firstly, by Keith Murray the Grand Master of Freemasons Victoria who presented $1,000.00 to Harkaway Scout Camp to assist in repairs from vandalism and theft of a heart starter machine and then by Baden Powell Lodge who nominated Harkaway River Camp as the recipient of their $5,000.00 Freemasons Foundation Grant.

While Baden Powell was not a Freemason he set up the Scouting movement with very similar values and the Baden Powell Lodge has numerous scouting leaders as members.

More Scams - Payment demanded by gift card?

Gift cards are increasingly the payment method of choice for scammers. Scamwatch reports show more than $5 million was lost in 2018, a 38 per cent increase compared with 2017.

iTunes cards accounted for $3.1 million in losses – a 156 per cent increase from the $1.23 million reported in 2017. However Scamwatch has also seen an increase in reports involving other gift cards such as Google Play, Amazon, and Steam cards, and Australia Post Load & Go prepaid debit cards. Losses to scams where non-iTunes gift cards were used as payment increased by 530 per cent in 2018 to around $1 million. "Scammers like to get gift cards as payment as it’s easy for them to quickly sell them on secondary markets and pocket the cash," ACCC Deputy Chair Delia Rickard said. "It’s concerning that the scammers are now demanding payment in other forms of gift cards. This is likely in response to scam warnings about using iTunes cards for paying scammers that are in stores like supermarkets and on the cards themselves. It’s clear the scammers are diversifying their payments to try to get around these warnings, so it’s vital people are aware that no legitimate company or government agency will ever ask you to make a payment with any sort of gift card," Ms Rickard said.

There are several common types of scams involving gift cards:

ATO impersonation scams

- The scammer pretends to be from the Australian Taxation Office and claims there is a warrant for their victim's arrest. The scammer asks the victim to pay an immediate 'fine' using gift cards or bitcoin, and claims police will come and arrest them if not.

Catch-a-hacker scam

- The scammer calls and pretends to be from a law-enforcement agency or internet provider and convinces the victim they are trying to trace the location of a hacker who has compromised the victim's computer. They claim they can do this by sending money from the victim's bank account or via gift card serial numbers.

"If anyone asks for payment using a gift card, it is a scam, simple as that," Ms Rickard said. "If you paid a scammer with a gift card, report it as soon as possible. Call the company that issued the gift card and tell them the gift card was used in a scam. It's very difficult to get your money back but the sooner you report it, the better your chances."

Businesses that sell iTunes, Google Wallet and similar gift cards are encouraged to inform their staff about these scams so that they can help warn customers. "If staff are informed they can identify the warning signs of a scam when they notice a customer spending large amounts of money on gift cards," Ms Rickard said. People can also make a report on the Scamwatch website, or find more information about where to get help. Web: www.staysmartonline.gov.au

NBN warns residents of scammers as reports rise

The National Broadband Network (NBN) is urging residents to be wary of scammers impersonating the wholesale network provider.

The company has released new information on its website to warn residents of scammers and help them learn how to identify those impersonating the NBN following an 84 percent increase in inquiries about suspected scams made to the wholesaler's contact centre since October 2018. "With nearly three in four homes and businesses now able to connect to the NBN access network, it's vital people understand the steps involved in making the switch, including how and when NBN Co and retailers will communicate with customers," NBN Co chief security officer Darren Kane said. "It's important to remember the key point of contact for Australians connecting to the NBN access network will always be their preferred phone and internet service provider. This is because NBN Co is a wholesale-only company and does not sell services directly to the public. In fact connecting to the NBN access network is not automatic and people need to contact their preferred phone or internet provider to make the switch."

Mr Kane urged residents and businesses to be vigilant of callers claiming to be from NBN Co requesting personal or financial information.

"We will never make unsolicited calls or door knock to sell broadband services to the public. We will never request remote access to a resident's computer and we will never make unsolicited requests for payment or financial information," he said.

"Protect yourself by verifying who are you talking to. If in doubt, hang up and call your retail service provider customer service centre to check if the call is legitimate."

Tarnagulla Neighbourhood Watch Loddon Area 7 Presentations

Last Tuesday, 26th March, I was pleased to be asked to attend the Annual General Meeting and Awards Night of the Tarnagulla branch of Neighbourhood Watch. Following the general meeting, all positions were declared vacant and the AGM took place. After supper, presentations of certificates for long service were awarded. The recipients for 20 years' service were Barry Condick, AFSM JP (Area Co-ordinator), Barbara Broome and Barry Rogers. Recipients for 15 years' service were Alf Broome, Joe Jakitsch and David Shay; for 10 years' service was Julie Davis and for 5 years' service; Terry Kellogg, Lyn Kellogg and Hani Read (absent). The branch has been in existence for 20 years now and with this type of dedication, it is sure to continue for many years to come.

Successful Mega Craft Sale at Arts Hub

On Sunday 24th March, the eagerly-awaited Craft Sale took place at the Arts Hub. Just about all stalls had been booked by craft enthusiasts in the hope of moving on some of their excess stock. I was there when the doors opened and already eager buyers were lining up to view and purchase some of the huge array of craft supplies; of course the stallholders themselves had already availed themselves of the opportunity to purchase from each other.

It is once again a testament to Lynda Vater's organisational ability and flair in drawing the local community and people from far and wide together, in a successful event. As usual, Lynda's social media advertising is beyond par and has been instrumental in raising Dunolly's profile within the region.

We have heard many comments to the effect that people would like to make this a regular event and it appears one is now scheduled for September, so watch this space!
