Ella is a remarkable junior citizen for our community. She is a very humble and passionate student who excelled at being the Vice School Captain for Dunolly Primary School last year. She is a student who goes above and beyond with her school work, receiving very high marks across the curriculum, in particular for writing and reading.

Ella has not only had an excellent year academically, she has also blitzed the sporting arena. Her dedication to hours of training for netball and basketball, in Bendigo and Ballarat, has paid off with. Ella was selected in the Bendigo AFL Netball team and was invited to the State Basketball Jamboree last year. Amongst Ella's many sporting achievements some of her highlights are:

- * competing in the Vic Primary School State Championships for cross country
- * regional athletics championships in 800m and triple jump
- * winning the Dunolly FNC 13 & under B&F
- * runners up B&F 13 & under at the Maryborough Netball Complex
- * playing for the Maryborough Rep Basketball team for Under 12, Under 14 and Under 16 squad

Ella's achievements speak volumes of her ability to push herself to always achieve her very best. A very worthy recipient of this award.

Dunolly Australia Day
Outstanding Junior Citizens of our Community

Joe is an outstanding junior citizen for our community and at his Year 6 Graduation he proudly received the Values Award of Community. He is an exemplary role model for our younger children and always leads by example. He was Dunolly Primary School's School Captain last year and in this role demonstrated excellent leadership qualities that enabled our school to become a community of strength.

Many times, Joe would give up his time or sporting commitments whilst fulfilling his role as School Captain.

Joe has strong morals and his work ethic is second to none, he loves a challenge and will set about to achieve his very best. He continues to excel academically and he attained very high results for reading, writing and mathematics.

His positive mindset continues to flow into his sporting achievements and he has had great success in football, basketball and cricket. Joe is currently representing Maryborough in basketball and cricket, and is an integral part of the team. Joe has adopted his own motto of 'hard work will beat talent, when talent doesn't work hard'. His dedication to leadership at Dunolly Primary School, his education and his sport, have earned him this prestigious award.

ROSIE'S RAMBLE

Congratulations to our Dunolly Citizen of the Year— Rachel Buckley (aka Queen Victoria).

We also have a winner of a really BIG Australia Day gong—Congratulations to Fiona Lindsay on her OAM.

Speaking of Australia Day activities -- when I came through Bridgewater on Sunday, there was a game of cricket being played in the street beside the hotel by a collection of various-sized children. Spectators were under the hotel verandah relaxing in the cool change. Only in Australia ?

Have you heard about the latest thing in sneakers? They are self –lacing! There is a built-in computer which automatically adjusts the laces to movements of the foot, and helps those who have trouble tying their shoes. At $500 a pair, they are not exactly for the poor.

I see the little giraffe on Broadway has got into the mood of the weekend. She is wearing a very fetching blue top hat with an Australian flag attached.

One of my smoke alarms is driving me nuts. The battery has died and I am waiting for somebody young enough to climb a ladder to visit, and put the new battery in. I did manage to get the alarm down, thinking it might stop the noise –but no. There still is this pathetic little cheep every few minutes.

Fiona Lindsay awarded OAM

Dunolly's Fiona Lindsay was recognised for her service to the community on Saturday, where she was awarded a Medal of the Order of Australia as part of Australia Day honours.

Over the past 14 years, Ms Lindsay has built a healthy list of local organisations, groups and committees she's been involved in, but said her move to Dunolly was an "accident".

"We were looking to move to the country and central Victoria was an area we were familiar with and liked very much," Ms Lindsay said.

"We were looking around and thought we'd be building a house and happened to see this place when it was looking so sad in February 2004, in the middle of the drought."

Ms Lindsay said the house, a two-storey Georgian building, is what sparked it all for her.

"We immediately embarked on restoring the house, so the project became a gateway into meeting people," she said. "Moving to Dunolly was a happy accident."

Through working on the house Ms Lindsay said she and her late husband became close friends with the architect and things really kicked off from there.

"I was invited to chair the planning group for the Dunolly 150th anniversary and that was a fantastic way of getting to meet different people and community groups. That's where it all started for me in Dunolly," she said.

"I'm quite comfortable in a coordinating role and I suppose it's really about stimulating groups, it's not about the detail of the meeting procedure. It's about facilitating a project to take on the next step."

Over the past 14 years Ms Lindsay has held various roles including president of the Dunolly Historic Precinct Committee, chair of the Rural Transaction Centre, president of Dunolly and District Inc., president of the Northern Goldfields Tourism Association, chair of Dunolly Hospital Auxiliary and has been involved with the Maryborough District Health Service for eight years.

Despite her community involvement, Ms Lindsay said she was both humbled and surprised by the award. "It was a great surprise. I said to some people when I first saw the email 'oh this must be a scam, this is ridiculous'," she said. "I'm very happy to receive this award. I've always been an active member of committees, so the achievements I've received recognition for are certainly those of the people with whom I work. "It's a shared recognition of how things have been improving and changing in Dunolly. "It's all about recognising the work people do — the work of the whole community keeps the wheels turning. "My colleagues in the different committees deserve thanks, this award reflects the work we've all done. I think we work well as teams."

Hon Jaala Pulford MP

MEMBER FOR WESTERN VICTORIA

Media Release

Residents urged to use common sense during Western Victoria's extreme heat

An alarming number of children have been rescued from hot cars in Western Victoria, prompting Labor MP Jaala Pulford to issue a new warning for people to take care of each other in the heat.

New figures show between 1 September 2017 and 31 August 2018, paramedics responded to dozens of calls to people locked in vehicles in Western Victoria, including:

- 45 in Ballarat
- 8 in Moorabool Shire
- 3 in Horsham
- 3 in Southern Grampians Shire
- 3 in Ararat Rural City
- 2 in Central Goldfields Shire
- 1 in Northern Grampians Shire

With another hot day forecast today, the Andrews Government is promoting the Never Leave Kids in Cars and Survive the Heat campaigns.

Ms Pulford said the Never Leave Kids in Cars campaign warns parents about the dangers of leaving children in hot cars where they are at great risk of life-threatening heatstroke, dehydration and organ damage.

"The temperature inside a car can double in just minutes in extreme conditions and a child's body temperature rises three to five times faster than an adult's," Ms Pulford said.

"While taking your child with you may seem like an inconvenience, leaving them in the car is risking their life," she said.

Extreme heat kills more people in Australia than any other natural disaster and can affect anybody. During the 2009 heatwave, the number of deaths in Victoria was 374 more than under normal conditions and almost 80 per cent of those deaths were people over 65.

Simple steps to stay safe during heatwaves include: Drinking more water by taking small sips from a drink bottle throughout the day

Keeping cool and seeking out air-conditioned buildings
Planning ahead and scheduling activities in the coolest part of the day

Looking out for most vulnerable – this might be your neighbour living alone or the elderly.

Ms Pulford said people at the highest risk of heat exhaustion include people aged over 65, people with a pre-existing medical condition, pregnant and breastfeeding mothers and babies and young children.

"We want the people of Western Victoria to be smart this summer – stay cool, drink water and look out for each other, especially children, the elderly and those with medical conditions," Ms Pulford said.

Loddon celebrates Australia Day

I'd like to congratulate all our community groups and volunteers for another fantastic year of Australia Day celebration events, which were held across the Shire on Saturday 26th January.

I would like to congratulate our Australia Day award recipients, including Loddon Shire's Citizen of the Year Ron Grimmett from Laanecoorie.

Ron has a long history of community service, including 14 years as secretary of Laanecoorie Recreation Reserve, 12 years as a member of the Laanecoorie School committee and Member of the Laanecoorie Hall committee for 45 years. He is also a life member of the Woodstock West Fire Brigade and life member of the region, and received the National Medal for long service given to emergency services.

Additionally, Ron has been involved in all local sporting clubs and has a passion for agriculture and generosity to his community.

I'd also like to congratulate Dingee's Katie Baker on being awarded the Young Citizen of the Year. Katie has shown great dedication to her community. She is involved in various community groups and clubs, and led positive change in her school through her role as SRC President.

I'd like to acknowledge our other Australia Day award recipients. This includes the Campbells Forest and District Community Action Planning Group which received the award for Community Group of the Year.

Other award recipients were:

Jennifer Weaver (Boort Community Service Award), Fred Shea (Inglewood Community Service Award), Denise Bridges (Tarnagulla Community Service Award), Kevin Pollock (Terrick Community Service Award) and Robert Steel (Wedderburn Community Service Award).

Furthermore, I'd like to congratulate all of our Loddon Shire Australia Day competition winners for colouring, literature and photography.

Finally, it was an honour to preside over two citizenship ceremonies on the day, which coincided with the Australia Day celebrations. The first ceremony took place at the Eddington Australia Day breakfast, and the second that evening at the Pyramid Hill Australia Day celebrations.

Events highlight our Loddon River

As summer continues, the natural beauty of our Loddon River at Bridgewater remains a highlight, not just through the many recreational activities on the river, but also through major events.

This includes the recent Australian Masters Water Ski Championships, hosted by the Bridgewater Water Ski Club (and featuring some of Australia's best competitors), as well as the 16th Annual Bridgewater Triathlon and Duathlon this Sunday 3 February.

Works are continuing to take place along the foreshore as part of Stage 1 of the Bridgewater Foreshore Project, including the laying of turf and installation of the irrigation system.

Further works will see the installation of shelters and seating, and interpretive signage along the foreshore.

This first stage of the project has been made possible thanks to $300,000 from Regional Development Victoria and $100,000 from Loddon Shire Council.

Council has applied for funding for Stage 2 of the Bridgewater Foreshore Development project, which includes the construction of a boardwalk and viewing platforms.

This application is part of the broader funding package submitted with our Victorian and New South Wales counterparts to the Federal Government's Regional Growth Fund.

In addition to the Bridgewater Foreshore Stage 2, the package includes upgrades for the Wedderburn, Pyramid Hill and Boort caravan parks.

However, for their safety, greyhounds must still be leashed at all times in public.

If you would like to know more, please visit agriculture.vic.gov.au/pets/dogs/greyhounds

Did you know?

In 2017/18 there were 2,123 dog registrations in the Shire and 390 cat registrations. Pet registrations are due annually on 10 April.

Heatwave Highlights Need for Energy Policy

Heat wave conditions in Victoria and interventions by the Australian Energy Market Operator (AEMO) have again reinforced the need for stabilising policy in the energy market. The Australian Energy Council's Chief Executive Sarah McNamara said that all parts of the energy system are put under stress during extended periods of high temperatures. “This is probably the biggest test we've had since the Hazelwood and Northern power stations closed, and it highlights the fact that we could use more reliable supply in the market.

“A significant amount of preparation went into planning for this summer. Generators and the market operator should be congratulated for doing everything they can to avoid power blackouts. “Record temperatures in South Australia followed by heatwave conditions in Victoria today stretched the system to its limits and required AEMO to step in to maintain electricity supply. “This is not the way a 21st century grid should operate. “But the situation we are in could have been avoided. The fact is that, without a national climate and energy policy, such as the National Energy Guarantee, would-be investors can't make investment decisions to build replacement generation. “We need a guiding policy to provide that investor confidence, so we can ensure that we have enough generation ready to go when it's most needed. The NEG remains the best option for this purpose and a viable way forward.”

About the Australian Energy Council

The Council represents 23 major electricity and downstream natural gas businesses operating in competitive wholesale and retail energy markets. These businesses collectively generate the overwhelming majority of electricity in Australia and sell gas and electricity to over 10 million homes and businesses. Travels with Cynthia

When I first started reminiscing about my younger travelling days, I wrote about my arrival in Brighton. The house which she had repainted blue from grey to banish anxious worries was where Aunt Frances moved after Grandpapa died. Previously the family had lived in an ancient old house in Thames Ditton in Surrey. Aunt Frances was a single lady after her fiancée was killed in the Second World War, so she decided to open a school at the Lodge on the property for – wait for it – “children of the gentry”, teaching them piano, painting and embroidery. It sounds like something out of Jane Austen, does it not. I have a photo of her standing outside her little school, accompanied by some of her “genteel” pupils.

Years later, when I met Aunt Frances I found her to be an adventurous lady, willing to tackle new things. By then she would have been in her sixties. She decided to go swimming with me, which I have already mentioned in a previous article. She had never learned to drive but had always wanted to, so she hired a car for me to drive her and Grand-mama and Auntie Madge, who also lived in Brighton, all over the county and beyond. One day we went to Worthing on the coast to visit a friend and her sister. I immediately decided I wanted that house and wished I could have bought it. I was still at the stage of reading the romantic classics so this house held immediate appeal. It was an old three- storey stone dwelling built right on the edge of the cliffs and in winter the wild seas lashed against the walls and waves hit the windows shutting out the light. I would have loved that.

My aunts would have liked me to stay on and offered to buy me a car so we could all go touring. Although I was living in London I went regularly to Brighton for weekend visits, and the idea appealed but so did the drawcards of family and home in dear old Aussie.

Brighton has some lovely architecture and grand hotels, once known as the venue for the boss and secretary's naughty weekends, but they still had the Potted Palm tea lounges and tea dances in the afternoons and of course the famous Brighton Pier with the magnificent pavilion at the end. I believe this building was partly destroyed by fire a few years ago and the concert hall fell into the sea; however it was planned to reconstruct it to resemble the original structure.

After I returned home to Melbourne I received a letter from Ruby Popplewell, my aunt's Worthing- by- the sea friend, to tell me my aunt had bought a car and after four failed driving tests had finally received her driving licence. Ruby told me she took her life in her hands every time my aunt took her for a spin. Apparently it really was a spin as aunt whizzed round corners far too fast and drove at great speed with her passenger hanging on for dear life.

Dear old Aunt Frances!

The Australia Day market our first for 2019 turned out to be fantastic Market with 29 Stallholders & shops all contributed to the Community Market funds.

One of the highlights of the day was the presentation of Jumpers to the Kokoro Kai karate club who during 2019 will be proudly representing Dunolly in their upcoming State & National Titles.

This Market BBQ was hosted by the CFA raising much needed funds for their organisation.

Although Mother Nature turned on a beautiful day it appears as though it must have been still too warm for the patrons as the number of people milling about was down on previous markets or maybe they were just on holiday.

The next market will be on Sunday 10th February commencing at the usual time of 8am.

For Bookings please call 0474008121 & speak to a committee member.

We still have some 2019 dates available if your group would like to host a BBQ. Please send text to 0474008121 or message the Market Committee on FACEBOOK.

John Tully with the replica of
The Welcome Stranger
Nugget

Welcome Record Commemorative stamps.

The Australia Post Philatelic group is releasing a commemorative stamp for the Welcome Stranger 150th. We thought that splendid until our former Museum secretary, town doyenne Anne Doran, noticed that it would be issued using the Bendigo postmark instead of Dunolly. The response from Australia Post was that Dunolly did not have a Post Office. Our postmaster Michael in our magnificent PO building will be surprised to learn that!

At least the Philatelic researcher admitted the mistake with an apology - albeit too late to rectify. But more astonishing is that the stamp release date is Tuesday 26th February 2019.

Rachel Buckley
Secretary Goldfields Historical and Arts Society

"For more than two thousand years gold's natural qualities made it man's universal medium of exchange. In contrast to political money, gold is honest money that survived the ages and will live on long after the political fiats of today have gone the way of all paper."

Hans F. Sennholz

Hans F. Sennholz was a German-born American Austrian School economist and prolific author who studied under Ludwig von Mises. Wikipedia

The Welcome Stranger nugget 150th

The Goldfields Historical & Arts Society has been interviewed by Carolyn Webb from The Age newspaper, and also covered by The Weekly Times, Bendigo Advertiser and the Maryborough Advertiser. The sesquicentenary of the discovery of the Welcome Stranger gold nugget has captured the interest of the wider community. Three generations of the Deason family posed for photographs at the Memorial site over two days to get the right photographs. I like to imagine the young members of the family coming back in fifty years to recreate the photos for the bicentenary. Let's hope we get some Oates family descendents to join us at the commemoration morning.

John Tully had the original crowbar on display at the Memorial site for the media photographer – but I regret to say that the nugget was a reproduction (well, fancy that! Who'd 'ave thunk it?) Thanks to the RTC for the loan of the nugget for the photographs. We still think it felt heavy enough to be real – especially in 45 degree heat. Thanks to the Deason family, Heather and Robert Cooper, Ken Duell and John Tully for being such troopers in the extreme weather.

Just A Reminder.....

Given this difficult summer, it would be thoughtful and considerate to put out some bird baths. Perhaps the Shire may consider some in various gardens that they manage, for example, The Gordon Gardens in Dunolly. Thank you

Tarnagulla Urban Fire Brigade will celebrate its 150 years of service to the community on the weekend 23rd and 24th of February with a gala dinner on the Saturday night at the Victoria Theatre in Commercial Road Tarnagulla followed by a Family Fun Day and get together on the Sunday.

The Saturday night dinner will see brigade members, Captains from adjoining brigades, senior members from the CFA along with local and state political figures join with the brigade to celebrate this special anniversary and recognise the service that the brigade has provided and continues to provide to the community of Tarnagulla and district, and the state of Victoria.

The evening will begin with a Welcome to Country by a representative the Dja Dja Wurrung Clans. Historian David Gordon will deliver an address on the history of the Brigade and its involvement in the community.

Sunday will see an informal Family Fun Day at the fire station with a sausage sizzle, jumping castle, cutting of the Birthday Cake as well as a visit by Captain Koala and giveaways for the children.

Former members of the Brigade and the Tarnagulla Community are invited to attend the celebrations on either the Saturday Night or the Sunday.
